Abstract

Good writing starts with a little room to think. This is your first document in Texite: a quiet workspace for research, discovery, and the next idea.

1 A fresh perspective

Every great paper begins with a question. Write yours here, then let the details follow. Attention helps us find meaningful connections between ideas [1].

2 Connecting the dots

One familiar expression brings it all together:

$$\text{Attention}(Q, K, V) = \text{softmax}\left(\frac{QK^\mathsf{T}}{\sqrt{d_k}}\right)V. \tag{1}$$

2.1 What comes next?

Make a small change. Compile. See your ideas take shape, one paragraph at a time.
